CALL FOR POSTER PRESENTATIONS

The 2014 Oilseed and Direct Seed Cropping Systems Conference will be held January 20-22, 2014 at the Three Rivers Convention Center in Kennewick, Washington. We are expecting 350-400 attendees, and would like to invite you to share your research, education and outreach related to oilseed and direct seed cropping systems in poster format. Topics could include but are not limited to: oilseed production practices, residue management, rotations, tillage practices, harvest methods, pest management, fertility management, soil quality, soil health, cover crops, and economics.

The Poster Session will provide an excellent opportunity to inform PNW producers, crop input suppliers, consultants, industry representatives, research and Extension faculty, and others about the most current findings from your projects. Please consider being a part of the only such event offered in the Pacific Northwest!

POSTER SUBMISSION DETAILS

Please send an email (dwysocki@oregonstate.edu) with the following information by December 31, 2013. Later submissions will be accepted but will not be guaranteed inclusion in the registration packet.

- Poster title
- Author(s) and Affiliation(s)
- Abstract (200 words or less)

Poster Dimensions: Posters will be displayed on a foam core board (maximum poster size 44.5”x44.5”). Please bring your own push pins.

Poster Set-Up and Take-Down: Poster set-up will begin at 1:00 p.m. January 20 and continue at 7:00 a.m. January 21. Posters will need to be removed by noon on Wednesday, January 22.

Poster Session: There will be a designated poster session on Tuesday, Jan. 21 from 4:50-5:50 p.m. We request at least one of the authors be present at the poster display to answer questions from conference attendees. Please let us know if you would like to submit a poster but are unable to attend the conference. You will be responsible for making arrangements with a colleague or us to place and remove your poster. English units are recommended.

Prior to the conference you will receive a poster board location number. Please place your poster on this board upon arrival at the conference. Poster titles, authors and abstracts will be printed in registration handouts along with the poster location number to facilitate viewing of the posters.

For conference details including registration, lodging, sponsor opportunities, and more, please visit the WSU Biofuels Cropping Systems website or the Pacific Northwest Direct Seed Association website.

If you have any questions please contact me or Karen Sowers 509-396-5936.
