

WSU Winter Canola tour

Tuesday, May 22, 10:00 a.m.

Rob Dewald farm

Ritzville, WA

Tour topics:

- Canola production experience (Rob Dewald)
- WSU-WOCS large-scale winter canola variety trials
- Fertilizer management for canola (Haiying Tao, WSU)
- Horned larks – the latest strategy to deter the pests (Bill Schillinger, WSU)
- Scouting in canola – what to look for and when (Tim Paulitz, Karen Sowers)
- Canola markets and marketing (Daniel Stenbakken, Viterra/Pacific Coast Canola)
- WA Oilseed Commission update
- PNW Canola Association update (Karen Sowers, WSU)

WSU Winter Canola Entries

Amanda
Claremore
Edimax
Griffin
HyClass 225
HyClass 320
Mercedes

DIRECTIONS

From Ritzville take I-90 west to exit 215 toward Paha Packard. Head south 0.5 mi to Heineman Rd. Turn left, drive 1 mile to N Dewald Rd. Turn right and drive ~0.5 mi to the plots on the west side of the road. From US-395 S take the Paha Packard exit. Turn left on Sackman Rd. In 5.1 mi turn right on Gering Rd. Drive 1 mi to N Dewald Rd, turn north and the plots will be on your left.

 Lunch will be provided at Cow Creek Mercantile in Ritzville after the tour courtesy of Rubisco Seeds and the WSU-WOCS project; RSVP required. Please RSVP by May 20 to Karen (ksowers@wsu.edu) so we have an accurate lunch count.

Many thanks to the Dewald family, Rubisco Seeds, Viterra, all the presenters, and the WSU-WOCS team.

To RSVP, or for additional information contact Karen Sowers 808-283-7013; ksowers@wsu.edu