

Soil Science Seminar Series

Soils 501, Dept. of Crop and Soil Sciences, Spring 2007

January 16

Martin Luther King Day (all university holiday-no class)

January 22

January 29

Dan Strawn, Associate Professor, Dept. of Plant, Soil and Entomological Sciences, University of Idaho
Use of synchrotron radiation to investigate chemical and mineral speciation in soils

February 5

Guy Knudsen, Professor of Microbial Ecology & Plant Pathology, Soil and Land Resources Division, University of Idaho
Ecology of a soil fungus: Microscopic and molecular adventures with Trichoderma harzianum

February 12

Jeff Ullman, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Biological Systems Engineering, WSU
Emerging contaminants: The next generation of pollutants

February 19

President's Day (class holiday)

February 26

Parakrama Weligamage, Agricultural Economist, International Water Management Institute, Colombo, Sri Lanka (also Ph.D. Candidate, Natural Resource Sciences, WSU)
System of rice intensification: An organic agricultural perspective

March 5

Noah Bonds, M.S. Candidate, Soil Science, WSU
Mint compost as a fertilizer supplement

March 12

Spring Break

March 19—joint seminar with Crops, 1:10pm

Markus Flury, Professor/Scientist, Dept. of Crop and Soil Sciences, WSU
Experiences of sabbatical leave in China and Switzerland

March 26

Matthew Stowe, M.S. Candidate, Soil Science, WSU
Nitrogen management in southeast Washington's winter wheat cropping system

April 2

Jennifer Reeve, Ph.D. Candidate, Soil Science, WSU
Microbial functional diversity and enzyme activities in response to soil fumigation and organic management

April 9

Prabhakar Sharma, Ph.D. Candidate, Soil Science, WSU
Studying colloid transport for different acceleration

April 16

Eric Harwood, M.S. Candidate, Soil Science, WSU
Improving the yields of late-planted winter wheat with seeding rate and phosphorus fertility

April 23

Kristy Ott, M.S. Candidate, Soil Science, WSU
Impacts of winter growing conditions on nitrate accumulation in leafy greens
